The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Short Cut of a Long Meeting

There are small signs of growing rebellion between our bureaucrats and the people they serve.

This one glowed through in the June 30 minutes of the Sweetwater Community Planning Association.

The minutes:

"The meeting was brought to order by Chairman Cannon.

"The minutes of the previous meeting were accepted.

"Mr. Bud Grey of the San Diego County Community Planning presented an elaborate plan of selecting goals and (stressed) the importance of these goals to the Planning Committee.

". . . this would take an inordinate amount of time and was voted down by the committee (and) . . . was recommended that it be deferred for an indefinite period."

The committee then adjourned.

Wham!

All in the Political Family

Dramas of the theatre are often based on the revelation of a small eruption of a disagreement within the family circle.

A watchful person notes that the seemingly mild eruption is symptomatic of a deeper problem that may course through the family much like an untreated cancer in the human body. Often, the deeper one probes, the greater is found to be the problem.

Up in Sacramento a few days ago, Assemblyman Bob Wilson of La Mesa announced that notice of separation had been issued to the State's Auditor General Harvey Rose.

Rose immediately reacted by charging that Wilson, chairman of the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, in firing him, was replacing integrity with politics in office of the Auditor General.

That was the point where the deeper ills began to surface.

Wilson then charged that one of the chief reasons for the firing was that Rose had given himself several apparently unauthorized pay raises in violation of his contract and unknown to Committee members. Wilson said that Rose had slipped his own name in with raises of 60 other office personnel and that raises for the Auditor General were not expressly authorized by the Committee.

Wilson said the Auditor General's resistance to close scrutiny of his office led to a detailed investigation of staff structure and salaries. During this investigation Rose transmitted a list of staff claims for retroactive pay. And, there, on the list, was a claim in excess of $300 for Mr. Rose and Rose was not even a state employee at the beginning of the eligibility period which started July 1, 1973.

The unauthorized pay claim was caught only because he, Wilson, had already initiated the Committee's own investigation.

Wilson revealed also that the Committee, under its former chairman, had convened an executive session only two months after Rose was hired to discuss his termination.

"Many of the top assistants had serious complaints against Rose's incompetent management, poor judgement, temper tantrums and rude language," Wilson revealed.

"Apparently Mr. Rose then began granting raises to numerous staff persons.

"Our investigation reveals that his Chief Deputy received 5 raises in 7 months — a 41 per cent increase, or $843 a month over his $2,035 starting salary.

"Our investigation also revealed that during the last 18 months two staff members received more than 40 per cent pay increases; 13 staff members got over 30 per cent and a total of 37 staff members got 20 per cent or more.

"Following these exorbitant raises, Rose had the audacity to propose a budget that would have given him an $11,000 raise (30 per cent), along with dramatic raises for other top assistants and almost nothing for his clerical staff."

Under its own investigation the Committee adopted a plan restructuring Rose's office to hold pay at existing levels except for clerical staff which will receive 10-11½ per cent increases.

Wilson recalled that Rose's reports were frequently challenged on points of accuracy and fact. "One report on the state program for Mentally Gifted Children stated that the money for the program was used for classes in juggling, horseshoe pitching and the like.

"These statements were sensationalized to draw great press attention. I called the school personnel involved and found the report was distorted. Then I learned Rose told employees on many occasions to draft reports so that they would get as much press as possible and gave salary raises based on press coverage," Wilson said.

"So many reports were questioned on accuracy, that it culminated in a statement on the floor of the State Assembly by Republican Caucus Chairman Frank Murphy, questioning the substance of those reports ended with the quip that 'the Rose smells'."

Thus, concluded, though only temporarily, Assemblyman Wilson's report. He says the investigation into the apparent unauthorized pay increases by the Auditor General will continue and that the findings will be presented later this month.

During this period it is Mr. Rose's turn at bat. But if he is guilty of Mr. Wilson's charges, best he better keep his mouth shut.

BRUSH FIRE — Fire fighters Nelson Powell, Bob Toy and Charlie Kirk watch dry brush burn atop the hill near High st., Lemon Grove. The fire department deliberately set the brush fire last Wednesday to prevent a potentially dangerous fire hazard on the 4th of July. A fireworks display at the site was one of several in the county during the holiday.

County Reorganization Wave Makes Just a Ripple of Change

San Diego County's new, streamlined organizational structure took effect last week — but in most instances you'd never know it. The big shuffle hasn't taken place yet.

The changes will come as promised, but moving is a tough chore.

For example, citizens who utilize building inspection and regulatory planning services won't be affected immediately by the change because service locations are the same.

Under the reorganization the County's new Department of Land Use and Environmental Regulation (LUER) has responsibility for building inspection services and regulatory planning.

Relocation of certain county operations is being planned by LUER, however the date for the relocations has not yet been determined. So, for the time being, service to the public will remain the same.

Building Inspection Services will remain until further notice at present locations in Vista (726-7920); Lakeside (443-7703) and La Mesa (460-8220).

Counter Unchanged

The counter operation for regulatory planning remains at Room 207, County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway in San Diego. This counter operation provides for such services as subdivision and parcel maps, rezoning, special use permits, variances and other proposed development processing.

For zoning information the public can call 226-2111 and for minor subdivision work call 236-2165.

Long-range planning matters will remain at the same location, but will come under supervision of the County's new Integrated Planning Office. Information on community planning can be obtained by calling 236-2181 and general planning information can be obtained by calling 236-2132.

In addition, the reorganization will have the County's present eight agencies consolidated into four agencies and two new offices.

The Fiscal Agency will be combined with the Law and Justice Agency to form the new Fiscal and Justice Agency. It will be headed by Robert "Bud" James, former Law and Justice Agency coordinator. John Bruhn, former Fiscal Agency coordinator will serve as deputy director of the new agency.

Health Care Remains

The Health Care Agency and the Human Resources Agency will remain the same. Frank Panarisi, Health Care Agency administrator, and Ruben Dominquez, Human Resources Agency administrator, will continue in their positions.

The Public Works Agency and the Special Public Services Agency have been combined into the Community Services Agency. Gerald Wilson, former acting administrator for Public Works, is the new acting administrator for Community Services. James Moon, former Special Public Services Agency administrator, will serve as deputy director for the new agency.

The staff of the former Program Development Agency has been transferred to the new office of Management and Budget and comes under the jurisdiction of the County's Chief Administrative Officer (CAO). Charles Bobertz, principal assistant to the CAO, will retain his present position and also become acting director of the new office.

Integrated

The functions of the former Environmental Development Agency will be handled by the newly created Integrated Planning Office (IPO) and the Department of Land Use and Environmental Regulation (LUER).

Neil Dunham is being loaned to the County for two years by the State Department of Transportation to head IPO. Bruce Warren, the former director of the County's Planning Department, is acting director of LUER.

The Offices of Program Evaluation, Intergovernmental Affairs, and Public Information Services will remain under the jurisdiction of the CAO. The structure of the County Counsel's Office, Department of Civil Service and Personnel and the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors also remain unchanged.

The Auditor and Controller, formerly part of the Fiscal Agency, now comes under direction of the CAO.

Petition Signers Top Incorporation Need

Petitions for bringing cityhood to Lemon Grove have reached the door to door stage, Karen Thomson, chairman of the Incorporation Public Information Committee said this week.

Already signed by a number representing more than five per cent of the 9,000 registered voters of the proposed city, Thomson said her committee wanted to show a substantial support for bringing the issue to a vote.

The proposed city will have approximately 27,000 persons but the exact boundaries (which would designate population) will be decided by the County's Local Agency Formation Commission.

Thomson said her group had acquired more than five per cent of the registered voters in two week-ends by having petitions at banks and markets. The house-to-house project is expected to produce as many as 2,000 signatures when the chore is completed by July 30 — an arbitrary date set by the Education Committee.

July 30 Meeting

Dell Lake, co-chairman with Jim Dorman and John Stenbeck, of Citizens for Incorporation, has scheduled a progress report meeting for 7:30 on Wednesday, July 30. It will be held in the Lemon Grove Junior High school auditorium.

Two items still remain unresolved, he said. One, the boundaries, will be decided by LAFCO. That will also resolve the second one — that of fire protection, he said.

The school district boundaries will remain unchanged regardless of any change in the boundaries of the proposed city.

How Vista La Mesa will fit into the total picture is still unresolved. A Boundary Committee poll showed a high percentage of the total population of that area desired to be included in the City of Lemon Grove boundaries. But at meetings, a vocative group shows up in opposition.

A group from VLM, north of Pearson st., has been in negotiation with the City of La Mesa for fire protection and possible annexation.

License Needed For Dune Buggy Driver Learns

Sheriff's deputies reported that they stopped a driver in the 700 block of La Presa ave. in Spring Valley about 5 p.m. July 1 when they observed that his dune buggy had no side mirrors and its front tires were slick.

It reportedly was driven at 40-50 miles an hour westbound on Jamacha rd., when officers stopped it at St. George and La Presa aves.

The driver, Donald Lee Harrison, 31, of 9838 Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley, possessed no valid driver's license. Officers learned, by radio check, that it had been suspended.

Further investigation turned up marijuana paraphernalia.

Harrison will be arraigned in El Cajon Municipal Court on charges of possession of marijuana paraphernalia and driving with a suspended drivers' license.

Holiday Visitors Take Coin Cache

The John A. Stoakes family of 8150 Jefferson ave., Lemon Grove had vacation visitors — while they were away.

Returning July 5, after two weeks of rest and relaxation, they found someone had entered their home and took some of their valuables.

$20 in currency, silver certificates and coins of undetermined value, a ring worth $150, and $100 in assorted coins including fifty silver dollars, were among the missing items.

Tenant Leaves; Takes Appliances

Jack F. O'Hara, a Navyman who is now assigned to Lemoore, rented his house at 2045 69th st. in Lemon Grove to a young lady in her early twenties.

However, she fell two months behind in her $400 a month rent, and his local leasing representative ordered her to move.

She did.

But she took some items with her — items worth $1115.00, he said.

A list of missing things includes a freezer chest, automatic dish washer, window fans, window air conditioner, brass fire place set, power mower, swimming pool pump and other items which add to the comfort of living.

The loss was reported on July 3 to the sheriff's department but there was no clue as to where the young lady moved.

Sheriff's Men Charge Couple With Resistance

A Lemon ave., fracas evolved about 10:30 p.m. July 2 after officers investigated several youths, 14-19, carrying an object near a closed-for-the-night business at 7670 Lemon ave. in Lemon Grove.

The object proved to be a couple of cans of beer. But while the investigation was in progress, two nearby residents reportedly interferred with the arrest process being undertaken by two sheriff's deputies.

The interference became so active that Custodio Ramirez, 19, of 7663 Lemon ave. had to be restrained. So was Nancy Eulalia Ramirez of the same address.

They were charged with resisting arrest and obstructing an officer in pursuit of his duty.

Maritime Academy Has Openings

The California Maritime Academy at Vallejo is still accepting applications for admission to the Class of 1979, which will be enrolled on August 4.

Enrollment will be increased this year as a result of a recent appropriation from the State of California to expand facilities and programs at the college.

The four year program at the Academy prepares young men and women for careers in the maritime industry. At graduation, students receive a Bachelor of Science degree in Marine Engineering Technology or Nautical Industrial Technology and are licensed as deck or engine room officers.

Most graduates take jobs as officers aboard commercial vessels at starting salaries between $15,000 and $20,000 per year.

Eligible applicants must have a high school diploma or equivalent, be under the age of 24, except veterans who must be under 27, be in good health, and demonstrate aptitude in mathematics and science.

Interested persons should write the Admissions Office, California Maritime Academy. P.O. Box 1392, Vallejo, CA 94590, or call 707-642-4404.

Market Shopper Robbed in Lot

A black male, 15-17, waited until Helen Margaret Minor returned to the parking area behind Von's Market, 555 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley to rob her of $18 about 8:30 p.m. June 30th.

She had deposited her groceries in the car and was ready to start it when the youth prevented her from closing the dar's door and used a knife to demand her money.

"Be quiet; keep your cool or I'll cut you," re reportedly said. "Now give me all your money."

He rummaged through her purse, took all of her money and fled toward Sweetwater rd., she told sheriff's deputies.

Flower Shop Ripped

Howard Takahashi, Jr., the clerk in a flower shop at 2611 Sweetwater Springs blvd., Casa de Oro, recalled that two youthful suspects came into the establishment about noon on June 30.

At closing time, about 6 p.m. he also remembered how the pair had distracted him after he discovered $400-$500 missing from an unlocked drawer beneath a cash register. The suspects were described as white males between the ages of 15 and 18.

Uneven Trade

It was a good trade — but not for Delp Plastering, a firm involved in construction at 9916 Ledgeside in Spring Valley.

During the night of July 2, thieves took the firm's plaster mixer worth $1,600 but left a broken down almost worthless one in its place.

Cuz Inn Burglarized

A mischievous burglar got into his cafe — Cuz Inn at 8921 Jamacha rd. in Spring Valley — during the closed hours, Ray E. Kruger, the owner, told sheriff's' deputies early July 3.

Three guitars, contents of a cigarette machine, and coins from coin operated devices were taken, he reported.

The intruder then helped himself to food and drink before pouring talcum powder over everything in the cafe. Entry was made through a roof ventilator but exit was through a rear door. The loss was more than $700, Kruger said.

Impact Wrench Stolen

An impact wrench worth $100 was taken from Rickel's Texaco station at 2655 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove on June 30 by one of several occupants of an auto.

The driver had said his tire was punctured and borrowed Gary Rickel's tools to change it. Rickel's had copied the car's license number which he gave to sheriff's deputies.

Restaurateur is Loser

While Maurice S. Harouche, a Lemon Grove restaurateur was at work, a burglar removed valuables valued at $2,950 from his home at 3075 Kempf st. on June 26.

Four gold rings ranging in value from $1,900 to $150 were in the loot.

Entry was made through a window in the master bathroom.

Want-Ad Brings Quick Results

Richard Newton of 7080 Central ave., Lemon Grove, answered an ad on July 4 regarding a window air-conditioner the advertiser wanted to buy.

He told sheriff's deputies that the person answering the phone when he called sounded to be an elderly woman with whom he negotiated the sale of the window unit. After they agreed on the price she said she would send a young man out to pick it up the next day.

On July 5 at about 11 a.m. he noticed that the unit had been taken from the window where it had been installed for a long time.

The Amana unit weighed about 300 pounds and requires two people to carry it, Newton said.

He gave the telephone number he had called to sheriff's deputies.

Budget Deficit Signals Rate Hike

A deficit in Helix Water District's 1975-76 fiscal budget means higher water rates for customers, effective within the next year, a spokesman for the District said this week.

District's board of directors approved a $7.3 million operating budget late last month which exceeds expected revenue by $212,665.

Rate increases of from eight to twelve percent are expected to make up the deficit, but the board has taken no action on the scheduling of the rate change.

"Timing of the increase is the difficult question," said Harry Griffen, district president. "Immediate action would mean we would be hitting people during the peak-use months when water bills are already high. On the other hand, an increase later in the year would have to be larger."

The forecast for next year is just as discouraging. Al Grosse, Helix administrative assistant, sees the need for a much larger rate raise during the 1977 fiscal year to meet higher operating and debt service costs.

Purse Snatched By Youth in L.G.

Frances Jaeger, a Lemon Grove senior citizen, of 3280 Olive st., sp. 60, was walking home from Food Basket on July 6 about 1 p.m. with a modest package of groceries.

She got home on Broadway with the groceries but only after a purse snatcher, a white male somewhere between 12-18 years of age, accosted her, grabbed her purse and fled to a car at Citrus and Pacific and left the scene.

Her purse contained $5-$6, keys on a chain and a credit card.

Gas, Cigarette Funds Refunded

(SACRAMENTO) — State controller Kenneth Cory released figures on the distribution of the June apportionment of both highway users taxes and the cigarette tax.

San Diego County's share was $1,011,104 highway users and $46,631 cigarette tax.

Other small cities received this:

	H.U.	Cig.	Population
Carlsbad	$ 7,795	$ 7,336	19,310
Imperial Beach	15,600	4,603	20,753
La Mesa	16,164	31,348	42,261
Coronado	15,636	4,849	18,080
San Marcos	7,092	3,130	9,969

For a comparison, Lemon Grove has a population of 27,000.

Camp Pendleton Needs Help Teaching Language, Culture

Refugee camps at Camp Pendleton are in need of volunteers to teach Survival English classes and sessions in learning about everyday American life such as shopping at the supermarket, how to get a driver's license, how to use the telephone and the postal service.

The classes are part of Project PREP (Pendleton Refugee Education Program), an instructional program directed and operated by the Department of Education, San Diego County in cooperation with the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Volunteers do not need a teaching credential, and while some teaching experience would be useful, it is not essential. The people who are needed are energetic, English speaking individuals over 18. All teaching is done at the refugee camp by volunteers assisted by experienced bilingual specialists and native language translators.

Project PREP is asking for a commitment from volunteers of six all-day sessions in a two week period. Teachers will be trained during an orientation program prepared at the Educational Volunteer Trailer at the camp. The trailer can be reached from Interstate 5 by taking the San Clemente-El Camino Real exit and proceeding to the Camp Pendleton entrance.

'Alive' Musical Staged Saturday For Wesleyans

"The Church Alive," a musical written by Otis Skillings and Derrick Johnson, is presented Saturday at 7 p.m. at Skyline Wesleyan Church, 1345 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove. The public is invited.

The musical was recorded and performed by the same group last year. Skyline's production is a contribution to the Wesleyan Church District Conference headquartered at the Lemon Grove church this week.

Cross Trek Sunday Honors 1st Mission

Old Town's annual "Trek to the Cross" is scheduled to begin Sunday led by the color guard fromed by members of the state historical park's rangers.

The annual event, sponsored jointly by the Old San Diego Chamber of Commerce and the County Historical Days Association, culminates a three-day festival and street fair celebrating the 206th anniversary of the founding of San Diego.

Starting at 2:30 p.m. at Conde st. and San Diego ave., the procession will follow San Diego ave. northwest, turn right on Mason st., turn left on Jackson st. and proceed up to the cross on Residio Hill, just below the Serra Museum.

A short program at the cross will include narrative on twelve of the flags that have flown over California. The commemorative outdoor mass will then be celebrated where Father Junipero Serra founded California's first mission on July 16, 1769.

California Rodeo Starts July 17

One of the biggest crowd pleasers ever to appear at the California Rodeo, the Eh-Capa Bareback Riders, will appear again to star in this year's track program at the famed cowboy classic, to be held at Salinas July 17 through 20.

The Eh-Capas, who take their name from the reverse spelling of Apache, are a drill team which consists of 40 young riders ranging in age from 8 through 18.

The riders perform without saddle and bridle, just a tack rein. A portion of the act is called the "liberty act" where a small group perform without even the tack rein.

The costumes of the group are homemade and closely resemble the buckskins worn by the American Indians in frontier days. Black pig-tail wigs, feathers, headbands and war paint are added.

Along with the color and excitement of the Eh-Capa's, the California Rodeo will continue its half century old tradition of presenting the finest trick and fancy riders in rodeo.

Bid Policy to Save Millions For Medi-Cal

Starting next year, the state hopes to save millions of dollars annually on its Medi-Cal prescription drug bill by purchasing directly from drug makers through competitive bidding.

State Health Director Jerome A. Lackner, M.D., said central procurement of 150 drugs that account for 70 per cent of the total Medi-Cal prescription dollar volume will help both the taxpayers and the pharmacists. There are 2,300 drugs in the Medi-Cal formulary.

"Our $128.5 million drug expense projected for next year can be cut substantially by competitive bidding, and pharmacists should save money by reducing their capital outlay for Medi-Cal drugs," Lackner said. Medi-Cal drug savings are estimated to range between $5-$15 million a year, depending on the economic climate.

"Other government agencies buy drugs in volume at prices substantially lower than Medi-Cal does," Lackner said. "We intend to make use of volume purchasing practices and terms already in use by other agencies, and to make maximum use of existing distribution channels."

Felicita Park is off Highway 395 — about a mile north of Lake Hodge. A left turn should be made at the sign about three miles south of Escondido.

SS Check Deposits Made Easier by BoA

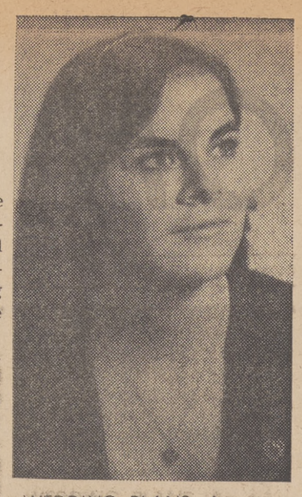
Bank of America said it will now guarantee deposits of social security payments into customers' bank accounts on their regular payment dates.

Under the government's Social Security Direct Deposit Program, beneficiaries may bring their government checks to their local bank offices, fill out an authorization form and have their social security checks deposited directly into their bank checking or savings accounts, or a combination of both.

Under Bank of America's guarantee, once the bank has received the first check, it will guarantee that each subsequent monthly payment, to which the Social Security Administration determines the customer is entitled, will be credited to the account on the due date. A record of the deposit will appear on the customer's monthly or quarterly statement.

The new service, developed by the Department of the Treasury and the Social Security Administration, means that customers no longer need be concerned with mail delays, theft of their checks, absences when their checks are due, or visiting the bank to deposit their checks. Bank of America's guarantee means that customers will be assured that their payments will be deposited to their accounts on the same date every month.

Sign-ups and advertising of the service has already begun and the service will begin in September.



WEDDING PLANS—An evening July 18 wedding is planned for Barbara Oneita Johnson, daughter of former Lemon Grove residents Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Johnson, now living in El Cajon. The bride-to-be is a graduate of Chino High School who has attended Grossmont College. She is a Past Honored Queen of Bethel 229 of Lemon Grove Order of DeMolay. The couple will honeymoon in Texas and will live in Pine Valley when they return.

Calif. Unemployed Top Million Mark

For the first time since the State began keeping unemployment statistics, more than a million Californians are out of work, according to June estimates released today by the State's employment director, Jim Lorenz. With the seasonal adjustment, however, the State's unemployment rate for June showed a sharp decline from 10.6 percent in May to 9.9 percent in June.

California's jobless total in June was 1,021,200 — up from 954,000 in May — mainly because thousands of students and graduates joined the labor market during the month seeking summer jobs.

"The increase is seasonal, and was expected," Lorenz said. "There is always an increase in unemployment between May and June, good times and bad, because of the large number of young people entering the labor force at the beginning of the summer.

"However, we run into a problem with an exaggerated seasonal correction to the unemployment rate," Lorenz said.

"This seasonal adjustment is based on a proportion of the total jobless which is much higher than normal during the current recession. Therefore, even though the number of summer job seekers is about the same as usual, the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate shows a sharp decline.

"This decline is not reflective of any major change in employment and does not show a trend," Lorenz added. "It is a one-time quirk in the system, and we must wait for next month's figures to get a better picture of the situation."

The number of people in jobs in June was 8,595,000 — a gain of 85,100 over May, but almost 100,000 less than were working a year ago.

Osteoarthritis

Arthritis, a disease involving the joints, takes many forms. The most common is osteoarthritis — or what is often referred to as wear-and-tear arthritis. It is estimated that about 97 per cent of persons over the age of 60 suffer from this disorder — some with only a touch of it, others with a painful and disabling condition.

Although this form of arthritis tends to be associated with growing old, it can also affect younger persons. Among persons under age 45, it affects twice as many men as women; in the later years, men and women are equally susceptible.

Essentially, the cause of osteoarthritis is year after year of mechanical stress on joints. It can also be caused by injury; if it is already present, injury can make it worse. Weight bearing joints — the hip, the knee and the spine — are the most likely to be involved, although any joint in the body can be affected.

As osteoarthritis develops, the cartilage cushioning the bone becomes soft and wears away; the joint capsule may deteriorate; and the lining within the capsule, which contributes to normally smooth movement, is damaged. Bony enlargements can occur about the joint as it tries to protect itself. This is often noticed in the enlargement of the finger joints.

Pain and stiffness are the two most common symptoms of osteoarthritis. How disabling these will be depends on the location and severity of the disease. If the hip or knee joints are involved, the disability can be severe.

The object of treatment is to reduce the discomfort and to prevent further deterioration of the joints. When severe inflamation and pain are present, rest is helpful until the discomfort has subsided. After that the patient is encouraged to use the joints as much as he can tolerate in order to maintain flexibility. The patient is almost always advised to take aspirin since it not only relieves pain but also helps reduce inflamation.

There are a number of other medicines that can help reduce the inflamation. These must be individually prescribed by your physician. Since excess weight places an added burden on the joints, weight loss in overweight patients is beneficial.

Although much can be done to alleviate pain, a joint which has deteriorated because of osteoarthritis cannot be restored by means of medical treatment. For some patients, a surgical procedure can be successful in replacing a damaged joint.

Too often, the victim of arthritis has not only his own discomfort to cope with but also the bombardment of well-meaning friends who have heard of a sure cure for the disease. There are no magical cures for arthritis. If there were, your doctor would use them. Nor are there any special foods that check the disease. If you are told that eggs make your condition worse or that milk should be avoided or that cod liver oil combined with orange juice will improve your arthritis, you are being given misleading information.

The best regime for the person with osteoarthritis includes:

- Maintaining overall good health, including good nutrition.
- Balancing the requirements for rest and for exercise.
- Keeping the inflammation reduced through the use of medication and the intermittent application of heat.
- Saving your joints from further wear and tear by observing good posture and maintaining normal weight.
- Keeping in touch with your doctor so that he can detect changes in your condition and advise you accordingly.

VFW Teen Dance Set for July 25

A dance committee meeting of the L.G Veterans of Foreign Wars Teen Dance group will be held at 2 p.m. July 12, it was announced this week by Dick Bales, dance chairman.

Bales succeeds Joe Nelson, who held the post for 2½ years.

Parents of youngsters who attend the once-a-month dances are particularly encouraged to attend.

Bales said the next dance will be July 25 with Art Spencer returning by popular demand.

He said that prize sponsors are again needed.

The dance held June 27 was attended by a near capacity turnout, he said.

The dances are held in VFW Post 2082 Hall at 2885 Imperial, Lemon Grove.

New Coins Mark Nation's Birth

The bi-centennial celebration of our nation's birth is just a flip of a coin away!

The Federal Reserve System began distributing the first of three bi-centennial circulating coins, the half dollar, on Monday.

The new half-dollar shows Independence Hall on the reverse side. The quarter and the coin dollar also have a patriotic salute on the reverse side. A Colonial drummer was chosen as the symbol for the quarter and the moon, shadowing behind the liberty bell, adorns the new dollar.

The obverse of each coin will retain the faces of past presidents Washington, Kennedy and Eisenhower with the yearmark variation "1776-1976."

Neighborhood banks should begin receiving the half dollars this week. The quarter and dollar are scheduled for release before the end of the year.

The U. S. Mint sponsored a national contest to select the new reverse designs for the historical coins.

Special 40 per cent silver specimens of the Bi-centennial coins are also available. Details are available through the Bureau of the Mint, 55 Mint st., San Francisco, 94175.

Job Insurance Claims Decline

The Employment Development Department's main Unemployment Insurance office in San Diego released figures that indicate that the June Unemployment picture locally was slightly better than May.

The downtown Unemployment Insurance office reported that the latest figures for June show that $2,695,536 had been paid out to claimants. For this month there were 5,157 new claims filed and 49,645 continuing claims.

These statistics are compared to May, when there was $2,845,405 paid out, along with 5,307 new claims and 49,757 continuing claims.

Corresponding figures for June 1974 were $1,294,797, 3,052 claims and 25,564 continuing claims.

"Business usually picks up a bit in June, partially due to the tourist influx," Richard Jones, office manager said. "Also, perhaps we reached a turning point in the unemployment picture."

He cautioned that the new thirteen week extension of Unemployment Insurance recently approved by the President, makes it likely that the figures for some months ahead will remain relatively high compared to 1974.

'Paint Your Wagon' Opens Starlight Season Tonight

The Lerner and Loewe musical comedy classic "Paint Your Wagon" premieres Starlight Opera's 30th anniversary season of musicals under the stars in Balboa Park Bowl tonight. The production will continue its eight performance run through the 20th.

"Wagon" is set in northern California during the Gold Rush of 1853. The plot traces the history of a mining camp through its development into a boom town. Rich in California folklore, the action of the musical spectacle is filled with unforgettable music, exciting episodes and dynamic dancing.

Best known song in Wagon is "They Call the Wind Maria." The stirring "I'm on My Way" and the misty "I Still See Elisa" plus the opening number "Wand'rin Star" have given the show a prominent place in the annals of American musical theatre.

Native San Diegan Ole Kittleson, the show's director, celebrates his 20th anniversary with Starlight this season.

This year, Starlight musicals will again feature its show-stopping "freeze" first used in the 1974 season. A green, yellow and red sequence of footlight cues signal the cast to "'freeze" as jet planes pass over the park, so the audience doesn't miss a note of the performances.

Other Starlight productions opening later in the season are Hello Dolly and Brigadoon.

Vacation Hints Make for Happy Homecoming

You check your luggage before you leave. You have the tires, water, oil and gasoline checked on the car. But before you hop into the car and take off, the Insurance Information Institute suggests you run through a few precautions against burglary while you're away. Here's a check list.

- Ask a neighbor to handle mail, circulars and newspapers, or have the newspaper mailed to your vacation refuge.
- Don't publicize your travel plans in advance. Burglars can read newspapers.
- Make sure you have the right kind of locks on doors and windows. Don't forget garage doors or sliding windows.
- Look into the idea of plug-in timers to turn lights and radio on and off while you're away. If you can get a variable timer so lights go on and off at different times during the evening, so much the better.
- If you can get your neighbors to open your draperies in the morning and close them in the evening, do so. Offer to take care of theirs when they're away.

Precautions or not, no house is burglar-proof. Possibly to recover lost property or to aid in recovering your financial loss under your insurance policy, the Institute suggests:

- Make a list of serial numbers of items like TV's, radios, guns, stereos, cameras and the like.
- Get photographs of jewelry, silver and other valuables.
- Keep copies of the lists and pictures in a safe place; give your insurance agent a copy for his files.
- Look into inexpensive metal engravers. You can put an identifying number, such as your Social Security number on many items to provide positive identification.

Opera Trio Returns For Fall Benefit

The San Diego Opera will present an extraordinary recital of Bel Canto operatic arias and duets with Joan Sutherland, soprano; Huguette Tourangeau, mezz-soprano, and Maestro Richard Bonynge at the piano.

The benefit concert is scheduled at the San Diego Civic Theatre for September 23.

Miss Sutherland and Maestro Benynge, the opera world's incomparable couple, made their long-awaited San Diego Opera debut in the 1974 production of "Lucia di Lammermoor." Capacity audience in San Diego and Phoenix responded to their magnificent performances with standing ovations and numerous curtain calls.

Program for the recital is yet to be announced, but tickets are now on sale to members and season subscribers. Remaining tickets will go on sale to the general public, mail order only, at the Civic Theatre Box Office.

SPEED WRITERS — Students Diane Ferland and Sandra Williams, both of Spring Valley, study on shorthand machines in a Grossmont lab. Miss Ferland is working toward a 150 word per minute award this summer. Miss Williams recently passed her 160 word speed award and is now working as a free-lance convention and conference reported while she complete her studies.

Self-paced Shorthand Is New Course Approach

A new and challenging method of learning Machine Shorthand through individualized instruction is being offered at Grossmont College. This accelerated one-to-one method of instruction is designed to train the student in machine shorthand used in medical, legal, technical-scientific, convention - deposition and court reporting fields.

Progressive firms and government agencies throughout the United States and abroad in every field of activity, are turning to machine shorthand since this method of taking dictation permits remarkable speed and a high accuracy level. Some shorthand students have achieved speeds of 120 to 160 words during their second semester, a spokesman for the college said.

Machine shorthand is taught on equipment provided by the college. The keys on the machine let the operator print the sounds of words in plain English letters on paper tape. Both hands are used and the operator can press any number of keys simutaneously to write a whole syllable, words or phrase at a single stroke.

Long words are written simply as a succession of sounds. The operator can write accurately, words never heard before. A light finger pressure operates the machines that require no motors, electric cords or batteries. Machines can be operated for long periods of time with virtually no fatigue.

House Plant Class Is Free at Grossmont

Instructor Steve Tollefson conducts the class, providing information on how to get the most from your plant buying dollar, how to propagate your own plants, how to grow outdoor plants indoors and how to protect your investment with proper care.

There is no enrollment fee for the noncredit course.

An explorer and author, Crosby has recently identified 150 new sites in the 200 mile long area in central Baja California where the so far undated works are concentrated. His lecture will relate the paintings to the culture of the painters in an attempt to develop a model of the society which produced them.

The illustrated talk costs $2. Tickets may be obtained from the museum.

Air California carried 139,632 passengers during the month of June, a record for the period, according to Joseph E. Walker, assistant vice-president of sales for the intra-state airline. Figures indicate an increase of 8.4 per cent over the same period in 1974.

Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.
But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1968—today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. Feather Title Runner-up Hafey Headlines Coliseum Card Friday

Recognized as a leading contender for the world featherweight title, Irish Art Hafey of Pacific Beach returns to the Coliseum Friday to face state champion Alberto Reyes in a scheduled 10 round battle. The bout will be televised on Hughes TV. It will not be shown locally.

Hafey's services have been in great demand throughout the world since his impressive knockout over second ranked Yambito Blanco on June 20th at the Forum. The bout ended in the fifth round when it was discovered that the Nicaraguan had suffered a broken nose and cheekbone.

"We've received maybe a dozen offers, including a spot on the Forum card in August," says Art's manager-trainer Burke Emery. "But we're interested in only one thing — the title."

Championship Offer

Local promoter Mickey Davies is the first to work on that angle, wiring newly crowned king Ruben Olivares a $100,000 guarantee for a September defense against Hafey at the Sports Arena.

Friday's duel presents a golden opportunity for Reyes, a Stockton resident, to enter the international picture. The Manila-born veteran won the California belt nearly two years ago by whipping former titleholder Jorge Ramos. In compiling a career mark of 37-5-2, Alberto has been halted only once — this by ex-world champion Bobby Chacon.

State Signs Five For Track & Field

San Diego State head track coach Dick Hill has signed five athletes to letters of intent, improving prospects for next year both on the track and the field.

The two top signees are Paul Becklund, a half-miler from Patrick Henry High School and Mike Packer, a javelin thrower from Mesa College.

Becklund, a 6-4½, 160 pound graduate of Patrick Henry, ran the 880 in 1:52.3 this year, and finished sixth in the California State High School meet in San Diego. He was also the Eastern League and San Diego CIF Champion this year.

Packer, a sophomore at Mesa last year, threw the javelin 237-10 and was second in the National Junior College Championships. He has only thrown the javelin for one-and-a-half years, and his best throw is less than a foot behind the Aztec school record. He has also long jumped 23-5.

Three other recruits from the area are all junior college transfers.

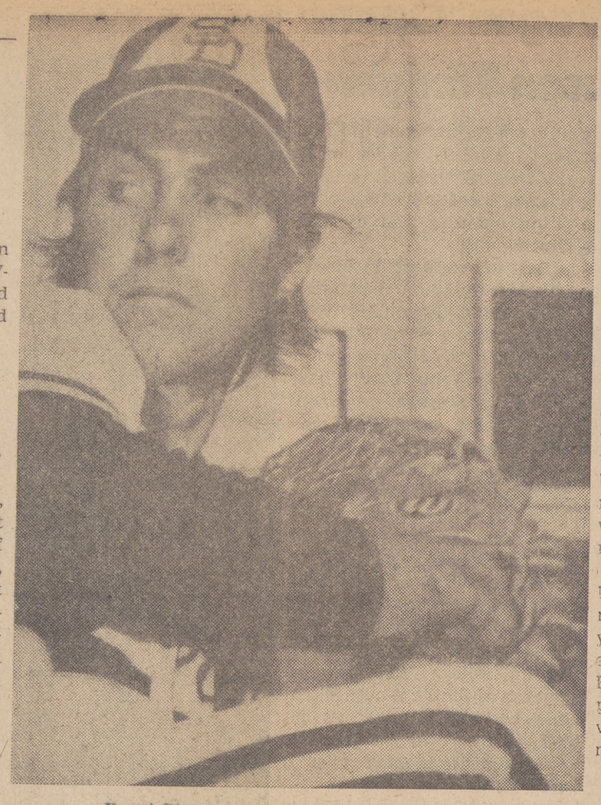
'Stained Glass' Leads Track List

Two-year-old Stained Glass, a winner of two straight stakes for the partnership of Grown, Kaufman and Criste, is the leading name on a list of 165 eligibles for the estimated $100,000 Del Mar Futurity, scheduled for its 28th running on Wednesday, September 10, at the seaside racetrack. The 1975 season begins Wednesday, July 23.

Eligibility payments for original nominees to the one-mile event, which carries an added value of $60,000, were due June 15, and the total purse is expected to surpass $100,000 for the sixth consecutive year. Supplementary nominations, at $6,000 each, will be due Friday, September 5.

The Del Mar Futurity also stands as the first leg of the Western Juvenile Triple Crown, which is completed by the $100,000-added Norfolk Stakes at Oak Tree and the $100,000-added California Juvenile Championship at Bay Meadows.

Purchased after breaking his maiden in the colors of his breeder, Mrs. Connie M. Ring, Stained Glass upset a strong field in Hollywood Park's $27,350 Westchester Stakes in his first outing for new owners Reeva Grown, Ken Kaufman and Jess Criste.



Brent Strom . . . S.D. High, USC Standout

San Diegan Stars With Padres

Instant success might be one way to describe the pitching of Brent Strom since joining the Padres barely a month ago, but then there are always skeptics who will argue any point.

"As far as I'm concerned, Brent has pitched way beyond our expectations," Padre manager John McNamara said about the 26-year-old San Diego native. "We wanted him to spend some time down at Hawaii so he could get off to a good start and then join us around mid-season.

"He was doing so well down there that we decided to speed the timetable up a bit and we're quite pleased with the results."

Strom, a former San Diego High School and USC standout, is currently 3-2 for the Padres with a 1.23 earned run average in six outings.

He's already turned in three complete games including a nifty two-hit effort against the San Francisco Giants on June 24. His other wins have been at the expense of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds, a pair of pretty fair clubs.

Strom's victory over the Dodgers was particularly gratifying since it snapped Don Sutton's personal winning streak at 15.

Fish Committee Changes Meet

Due to a reduction in the County budget, the Fish and Wildlife Committee has approved a motion to meet once every other month instead of monthly. The new schedule will begin with the month of July.

The date of the meetings will also change from every second Wednesday to the second Tuesday of every other month, according to Stephen Schier of the County Staff.

His telephone is 565-5761.

Opera del Prado Set For August

Opera del Prado will be presented August 16 at 8 p.m. and August 17 at 2:30 p.m. at the Pacific Lyric Theatre in the Casa del Prado Auditorium in Balboa Park.

Scenes and selections from Le Nozza di Figaro (Mozart); Pagiliacci (Leoncavello); Vanessa (Barber) Candide and The West Side Story (Bernstein) and The Merry Widow (Lehar) will be presented.

William Roesch is stage director. Ilana Mysir is music director. Tickets are $2.50 and $2.00 and are sold at the door.

Opera del Prado's telephone is 236-4371.

Winner Calls For His $126,612

(CALIENTE) — Ernest Frank Martin, 65, of Pomona, showed up Saturday to collect a record $126,612.60 won June 15 for being the lone ticket holder in Caliente's 5-10 with six winners.

Martin said he was the major holder of a $640 multiple ticket shared with three other men from the Los Angeles area. He credited luck, the size of his ticket and "a little bit of skill" with having much to with being the lone winner on an afternoon dominated by longshots.

Formerly from Cleveland, Martin has lived in the Pomona area for the past three years and is involved with real estate and second mortgages. He said he has been a horse player most of his life and visits Caliente often since moving to California.

Left Town

On the day Martin won his fortune, he left before the last race in the 5-10 in order to beat the traffic crossing the border. "I arrived home and was told my wife (Alice) was taken ill while visiting relatives in Ohio," Martin said, "so I got the first plane out that I could to be with her and it was not until a week later that I learned I had won the 5-10." After his wife had fully recovered from a minor heart problem, Martin said they returned to Pomona and then came down Saturday to claim his fortune.

"My wife and I will take an extended vacation trip and just enjoy life now that we have some unexpected money and she has her health back," Martin told reporters.

Records Likely To Fall in Jr. World Golf

If the 1975 Junior World Golf Championships, currently under way at four San Diego courses, match last year's tournament, there will be some new records set.

Three of the four divisional scoring marks went off the books during the 1974 event and with the improved caliber of play each year there should be some new marks by the time the tournament ends Saturday.

Over 550 boys and girls from the United States and 27 foreign countries have entered this 8th annual classic co-sponsored by the San Diego County Jr. Golf Association and the PGA. Play is conducted in four age brackets, 15-17, 13-14, 11-12 and 10 and under.

One of the early favorites in the boy's senior division is John Cook of Rolling Hills, Ca. John won the California State Amateur championship at the tender age of 17 last week at Pebble Beach.

Talent Plentiful

He will have plenty of competition from a talented field of foreign representatives. This group is dotted with national junior champions from such distant points as Japan, South Africa, Colombia, Chili, Egypt, Israel, Argentina and Belgium.

The 15-17 division is played at the rugged Torrey Pines South Course. The boys will be shooting at the record 287 total scored by Rhodesia's Nicky Price last year.

Guitar Taken Here

Michael Dwyer left his $750 guitar at the repair shop at 7936 Lester ave., in Lemon Grove to be repaired.

But when Robert Taylor, the person responsible for the operation of the plant, opened the door for ventilation during part of the repair process, someone slipped in and took the instrument, police were told.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

It isn't easy to say no to Joan Adaskin. She can out-talk, out-logic and out-shout a Marine D.I., warm your heart with a near brilliant smile and works in honest effort for kids around the world.

Joan, a math teacher by trade and a wheedler by conviction, is a woman of the future with a talent for the past. She believes strongly in today's youth and works endlessly in their behalf. But 100 years ago she would have been a helluva horse trader.

Berthing is her bag these days. Joan is the Housing Director of the Junior World Golf staff and is charged with finding homes for some 60 youngsters representing 28 foreign nations during the international swing session underway at four San Diego golf works.

Tots 10 and under are testing the turf at Presidio Hills, boys and girls 11-12 are teeing up at Mission Bay, the 13-14 set is shaving strokes at Balboa Park and the 15-17 swingers are doing their thing at South Torrey Pines.

Most of the foreign youngsters play at Torrey, the only course where galleries are allowed, and it is one of the duties of Joan's host families that they get their guests to and from Torrey on time and ready for play.

Little problems, (like the generation gap, a language gap and a culture gap) are brushed aside by Joan with a flash of smile and a wave of her hand.

"You'll do fine," she says in a reassuring tone to a query about the eating habits of South American teenagers. "Feed 'em hotdogs. They love 'em."

It was with such sage and sound advice that the clan Wirges was prepared for the arrival of two very pretty 15-year olds from Lima, Peru. And it was reacted to in typical fashion by my spouse-mate.

From neighborhood noodnik to the second coming of my Lord, my Mizzes responds to every visitation with one reaction, "We've got to clean the house, everybody get busy."

Floors were scrubbed, windows washed, rugs vacuumed, clothes picked up and a general lick and promise given to all the nooks and corners of the establishment in record time.

While laboring over a hot mop on the cold deck of the family room, mental cobwebs were lifted and the dust brushed off of lessons once learned of Peru. Alas, all that remained was that it was the center of the great Inca Empire and was on the west coast of South America.

A quick check of Doubleday's World Travel Encyclopedia added that Peru dates back to the third century, was conquered by the Spanish in 1533 and that Lima is a modern city of 3-million.

One is intrigued by the story that Lake Titicaca, the highest lake in the world at 12,500 feet (and a producer of 20 pound rainbow trout) is lined with immense gold chains weighing tons where they were sunk by the Incas to hide them from the Spanish.

Inca history and Peruvian geography faded from importance with the bright smiles of Marisa Alzamora and Alicia Dibos. A bit shy, a bit adventurous, the excitement of travel and tournament play danced in their eyes. We were blessed with a pair of pretty young ladies that would pass inspection and could muster with any well intended teenage group in the world. And they fit right in with their six offspring hosts. Both come from large families.

Marisa has been playing golf nearly 3-years and shoots to a 9-handicap on the difficult Lima Golf Club course. Alicia, playing just a year and a half, has a 13 stroke handicap on the same course.

They are playing in the 51-girl field on South Torrey Pines. The boys' field had to be limited to 205 this year. Normally the girls play North Torrey, but six temporary greens exclude that plan this year.

Co-sponsored by the PGA and the U. S. Department of State's Sports Committee, the Junior World Golf Championships are a positive force in a world where trust and friendship are sorely needed.

For hosting families, the inconvenience is not great. And after a visit to Sea World and San Diego County Fair, let it be said Joan Adaskin was right, Teenagers around the world are all alike. They love hotdogs.

Del Mar Track Readied For Thirty-Sixth Year

Del Mar's 36th season of racing opens Wednesday, July 23, with 25 stakes worth a record $730,000 in added money during the 45-day meet.

Richest stakes of the season will be the $100,000 Del Mar Invitational Handicap, championship race for three-year-olds and older, on Monday, Sept. 1; the estimated $85,000 Del Mar Debutante for fillies on Sunday, Aug. 31; and the Del Mar Futurity with an anticipated $100,000 purse on closing day, Wednesday, Sept. 10.

The excitement of the turf usually attracts such notables to Del Mar as Jimmy Durante, La Jollan Bob Crosby, David Jansen, Don Adams, Walter Matteau, Telly Savales (now with horses of his own) and Burt Bacharach.

Del Mar will host the first "jewel" of the Western Juvenile Triple Crown with the Del Mar Futurity on closing day, Sept. 10. It will be run at one mile on the main (dirt) track.

Other two legs of the "Triple" will be completed by the $100,000-added Norfolk Stakes during the Oak Tree meet at Santa Anita in October, and the $100,000-added California Juvenile Stakes at Bay Meadows in December.

Heading the list of 165 eligibles for the Del Mar Futurity, race for two-year-olds is Stained Glass, winner of two straight stakes (at Hollywood Park's Westchester Stakes and the Sir Francis Drake Stakes at Golden Gate Field). Other prime eligibles are Big Bite, second place horse in the Westchester Stakes, and Westchester third place finisher Crazy Channon.

Among top jockeys in attendance this summer will be Sandy Hawley, expected leader at Hollywood Park, in his first visit to Del Mar. Bill Shoemaker (consecutive title winner at Del Mar 1929-54 and 1970) and Don Pierce (1966 winner) are leading stakes riders in Del Mar history and will be trying to add to their winnings this summer. Other jockeys include former Del Mar champions Howard Grant (1971), Rudy Rosales (1969), and Jerry Lambert (1967), as well as such outstanding riders as Fernando Toro, Frank Olivares, Bobby Howard, Wayne Harris, Francisco Mena and A. L. "Tony" Diaz.

BROADWAY at SWEETWATER LEMON GROVE

Arthur Hafey, Coming Champion He Makes Victories, Not Waves

by jose jiminez

San Diego boasts of many star football and baseball players. And yes, we have quite a group of tennis, basketball, and golf players as well, all of whom fit into the "star" category.

Reams of print are spent on the above gents (and ladies as well) and rightfully so.

There is another outstanding athlete in our midst who is deserving of a star . . . or possibly super-star status. But unlike the others this young man is a boxer — a fellow who earns his bread 'n butter in the pugnacious pastime of busting another guy's beak.

His name? Art Hafey.

The diminutive dynamiter resides in nearby Pacific Beach and holds one of the most impressive overall records in boxing.

He is a consistent winner in out-of-town rings as well as at the San Diego Coliseum.

Yet — unlike the local basketball, baseball, golf, and football players he rarely ever gets his name in print — in San Diego, that is.

Por Que?

He is a local resident. He is a home owner and a taxpayer, and most importantly, he is rated the numero uno featherweight boxer in the world.

Non-Violent Outside

Perhaps, it is because Li'l Arthur is a gentleman outside of the hemped circle. He has never been in a jam with John Law. He conducts himself as a properly raised 23-year-old athlete whose aims and standards are high. He lives and breathes boxing, and has one goal in mind — the featherweight championship of the world.

Maybe — just maybe, if Art took a swing at a cop on downtown Broadway, or was picked up on a drunk charge, or (God forbid!) was pinched on a drug charge, then perhaps the local media would take notice of this fine young citizen.

We're sure they would. And what a yarn they would make of it. too.

L.A. Whammo

Just last week, the Pacific Beach Irisher trekked up to L.A. and whammed the daylights out of "Yambito" Blanco, who was rated the number two man in the division.

Almost without exception, the local news media neglected to mention the outstanding winning effort on the part of Hafey.

Many of the typewriter tappers and the pitchmen have decided that Hafey lacks 'color'. Outside of the ring, perhaps he does, but once he gets inside of those four posts he is a terror, as any ring-wise fan will tell you.

He is a winner. And that's the name of the game.

It's our guess the Irish Blockbuster will climb to the top rung of the fistic ladder, with or without the help of the San Diego county media.

Hafey makes his fifteenth appearance at the Coliseum Friday when he takes on the California featherweight king Alberto Reyes.

Press Responds Slowly

How many of the local press will be on hand to welcome Hafey back to the local scene remains to be seen.

But one thing is certain. When he becomes champ — and it is almost a certainty that he will — these guys will fall over each other for ringside seats and for interviews with Hafey.

In another way of saying it, it's harder to attract attention if you're a quiet, well conditioned professional.

Flamboyance attracts attention but it leaves nothing useful after the performance.

Padres Cop Top Spots As 'Stars of Month'

Two outstanding young performers for the San Diego Padres are among five professional and amateur athletes chosen for May Stars of the Month by the Hall of Champions Breitbard Awards Committee.

By an almost unanimous vote the group cited the Padre's standout pitcher Randy Jones and center fielder John Grubb, both of whom figured prominently in the team's strong showing during May. Also named in the professional category was Marty Smith, national moto-cross racing champion from Point Loma High.

Selected as Stars of the Month among the amateurs were Arnie Robinson for his long jump effort of 27 feet 2 inches, best in the world so far this year, in the Modesto Relays and Dottie Morgan, Naval Training Center Kegling wizard who captured the women's division and all-events crown in the inter-service bowling championships at Dayton.

5 Game Winner

In May, Jones distinguished himself as one of the top pitchers in the National League by winning five games, three of them shutouts, and being named the circuit's pitcher of the week on May 24. Meanwhile Grubb, after a slow start, went on a month-long rampage and wound up with a .335 average to become one of the top 10 hitters in the circuit. As leadoff man his on-base percentage was an awesome .473.

Smith, who earned over $30,000 and won the national moto-cross title in 1974 while still a junior at Point Loma, continued his winning ways by taking the East-West invitational motorcycle meet at Belpre, Ohio.

Certificates of achievement were awarded three professionals. Billy Casper for winning the New Orleans Open golf tournament, Gene Littler, who led the way in the Danny Thomas-Memphis Golf Classic, and Charles Brumfield for his men's singles victory in the international racquetball tournament in St. Louis.

Friars Add August Date to Schedule

The San Diego Friars have added another home playing date for San Diego's tennis spectacular next month in the Sports Arena.

Allan Kingston, president of San Diego's first-year club in World Team Tennis, said that the Friars would meet the Los Angeles Strings August 6 in addition to previously scheduled matches August 8-10 against Hawaii, Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

The Friars last appeared in San Diego May 9-11 and have only played away matches since. "Most of the outstanding players in WTT will be appearing in San Diego next month as part of the spectacular and fans will have the opportunity of seeing all their favorites within a four-day span," Kingston said.

The schedule gives fans their first look at the Pittsburgh Triangles with Mark Cox, Vitas Gerulaitas and Evonne Goolagong, and the Cleveland Nets, who display the formidable Marty Riessen.

Both Hawaii and Los Angeles appeared in San Diego during the May festival but are welcome repeaters with such standouts as John Newcombe, Margaret Court, Ross Case, Bob Lutz and Rosie Casals.

LEATHER USE

About 70 per cent of the leather from cow hides goes into shoes.

Mariners Sign 6th Round Amateur Pick

The San Diego Mariners made their first move toward signing players selected in the World Hockey Association amateur draft by reaching a contract agreement with their sixth round pick.

Alex Tidey, 20-year-old right winger from Lethbridge of the Western Canada Hockey League, has agreed to terms and will report to the Mariner training camp in September, according to San Diego general manager Ron Ingram.

The 6-0, 182-pound Tidey scored 42 goals and assisted on 54 others in 68 games for the Broncos this past season. He had 78 penalty minutes.

In his first regular season with Kamloops of the WCHL in 1973-74, he had 10 goals and 12 assists with 52 penalty minutes.

"Tidey gives us size and scoring punch on the right side and he'll have every chance to stick with us," said Ingram. "Our reports on Alex are all good."

Hollypark Derby List Top Racers

Saron Stable's Forceten, whose convincing two-length victory in the $209,800 Swaps Stakes vaulted him into the national limelight, will seek more gold and glory Sunday when Hollywood Park presents the second jewel of the Western "Double Crown" for three-year-olds, the $150,000 Invitational Hollywood Derby.

Patterned after the European classics for sophomores, the Hollywood Derby will be staged at the cup distance of one mile and one-half over the Lakeside Turf Course. Several of the nation's finest second-year runners have been extended invitations to the Derby, including Belmont Stakes winner Avatar, Preakness hero Master Derby, Diabolo and Sibirri.

On Saturday, two-year-old fillies will have their seasonal title decider when the Inglewood track stages the estimated $100,000 Hollywood Lassie Stakes at six furlongs. Expected to top the Lassie lineup are stakes winners Bound for Pleasure, Windy Welcome and Joy to the World.

Over-the-Line Tourney Opens In Bay Park

The 22nd Annual World Championship Over-the-Line tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday on Fiesta Island in Mission Bay Park.

595 teams have entered the contest: 355 open; 140 Centurt, and 100 Women's.

Padres Hope For 'Turnabout' In Three-Day All Star Break

A much-needed three-day break from competition is looming up for the San Diego Padres as they finish out a two-city road trip against the Pittsburgh Pirates and then rest up over the annual All-Star break.

The Padres, who opened the current swing with three outings with the Chicago Cubs, will be testing the Bucs in a doubleheader on Friday followed by single games on Saturday and Sunday.

After that, the club will be off July 14-16 because of the All-Star game scheduled for July 15 in Milwaukee.

San Diego's visit to Chicago and Pittsburgh will be their last of the year to those cities and will leave the Padres with just one long trip (August 8-20) left against National League Eastern Division clubs. On that swing they'll meet up with St. Louis, New York, Philadelphia and Montreal.

Welcome Break

"We really need a break at the moment," Padre manager John McNamara said. "We're pretty banged up following that fight with the Dodgers last week and we've got some injuries which need time to heal. At first we thought there was no serious damage, but after a day or so some problems began to pop up and we realized we were hurt a little worse than we originally figured.

"One thing we have to look out for," said the Padres skipper, "is not to be looking ahead to the break and overlook the Pirates. They are presently in the process and trying to cement their hold on first place in the Eastern Division and I know they would like nothing better than to go into the All-Star break with as big a lead over the pack as possible."

Looking a little further ahead, the Padres won't be playing at home again until July 17 when they begin a week-long homestand against the Chicago Cubs (July 17-19), St. Louis Cardinals (July 20-21) and the Pittsburgh Pirates (July 22-23). This will be last time this season any of the three clubs will appear in San Diego.

Pad-Pourri

The Padres starting rotation has been undergoing some changes this year. Under new pitching coach Tom Morgan the club has been going with a five-man rotation, but there have been several moves as to which five he uses. Presently, the club has no less than seven men who have been starters for a reasonable amount of time — Randy Jones, Brent Strom, Dave Freisleben, Dan Spillner, Rich Folkers, Alan Foster nad Joe McIntosh . . . . Infielder Dave Hilton is currently back in action for the Padres down at their Double-A Alexandria club of the Texas League. Hilton missed virtually half the season with infectious hepatitis.

Bill Rigney is scheduled to switch from first base coach to advance scout following the All-Star break. Regular first base coach Dick Sisler will move back into the box from the bench where he's been working with the hitters.

Fans may come to South Bay Park starting Saturday and rent a stock car and race it in the Novice Claimer division for a $35 fee.

S.D. Breakers Drop L.A. Game

(SANTA MONICA) — A standing room only crowd of 2,217 saw the L.A. Stars beat the San Diego Breakers in an International Volleyball Assn. game here Saturday night.

It brings the Breakers to a 6-3 standing but the team keeps its league leadership.

Friday, the Breakers move into El Paso to meet the Sol team from that border town.

The Breakers have three spikers in the top ten of the League, all averaging over .400. They include Larry "Boomer" Milliken, Bill Wardrop and Rudy Suwara. In the assisting department, Carlos Fonseca from Brazil leads the Breakers and is ranked sixth over-all in the League statistics with close to 250 assists. Breaker Kathy Gregory rounds out the top ten in that category with over 100 assists. Bill Wardrop, considered to be one of the best over-all volleyball players in the pro ranks, leads in "kills" with 238, while Suwara is fixed solidly in seventh place with approximately 187.

Fan Club

General Manager Sandy Geuss has declared July 15th as the deadline for all Breaker fans to submit entries to the Club office naming the fan-booster club. The winner will be announced shortly thereafter and will be presented, at a home game halftime ceremony, with a volleyball, a Breaker "T" shirt, two-season tickets and a club membership card.

All fans joining the Breakers fan-booster club will get a special discount on all home games, a discount on a Breaker "T" shirt, a bi-monthly newsletter, plus much more. Send your entry, naming the new Breaker fan-booster club to the Breakers office, located at 1660 Hotel Circle North, Suite 325, SD 92108 — before July 15.

Powderpuffers Added To Cajon Oval Card

Saturday's main event at Cajon Speedway might seem hard to match for excitement but the way the Super Stock drivers have been performing it wouldn't be too surprising if they came up with another corking finish.

No less than six different drivers led last week's feature and they'll all be back to try again Saturday night in the 40-lap headliner.

Time trials for more than 60 cars begins at 6:30. A four lap trophy dash for the four fastest machines is set for an 8 o'clock start.

The program will include four eight-lap heats, a 10 lap consolation and a 10-lap Powder Puff Derby before the main goes.

Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley, who won his fourth main last week, has boosted his El Cajon Stock Car Racing Assn. lead over Tim Biggers of El Cajon by 280 points.

Ron Esau of San Diego is third and Larry Hageman, the Lakeside driver who finished second last week, is fourth in the championship points chase.

Needs Luck

But last week's holiday fare might have proved to several others that victory is within their grasp if a little luck will come their way.

Rookie Mark Meech of San Diego, veterans Mark Stahl of Chula Vista, Ted Kallos of Spring Valley, Tom Zelesky of El Cajon and Biggers all had a shot at the lead but couldn't hold it.

Meanwhile, the Powder Puff Derby gals will be slated for another 10-lapper with Martha Starr of Alpine holding a slim 20 point championship points lead over Barb Baxter of El Cajon.

Other women contenders include defending champion Joy Swentkofske, Diane Butler, Debbie Swiman, Mac Huntington, Joan Sanhhez, Pat Walker, Holly Stahl and Caron Burrows.

CB Radio Taken

A marine-type CB radio and a box of tools were missing from the canvas covered boat in the driveway of Hobart L. Ferrell's home at 1305 Bakersfield, Lemon Grove, he told sheriff's deputies June 24.

He had been working on the boat as time permitted and was in his house at the time of the theft, he said. The loss was estimated at $450.

Youth Authority Lauds S.D. Probation Element

The County's Probation Department has received an award from the California Youth Authority for a program aimed at polishing-up the attitudes and behavior of youngsters on probation. The award was presented recently at the annual conference of the California Probation, Parole and Correctional Assn.

Formerly known as the Community Day Center, the program is now called Los Vecinos, which means the "neighborhood".

"We've renamed the program to avoid an institutional image," said Supervising Probation Officer Larry Haley.

Los Vecinos handles kids on probation for offenses such as theft, drugs, and assault.

Three Centers

The three centers located in Chula Vista, El Cajon, and Escondido are converted homes which provide a relaxed and comfortable environment for the kids.

"This is not a lock-up situation," said Haley, "We don't want to make these youngsters feel like they've been shanghied so we require the consent of both the parents and the child before entering the youth centers.

"Each youth is outfitted individually with an academic program which meets his or her scholastic ability. The staff at Los Vecinos counsels youths as well as the youth's family.

"This gives us an insight to the overall situation the youth faces. If a problem pops up, we are immediately aware and prepared to handle it," he continued, "It's what we call the "here and now approach" to solving problems."

Learning Fun

The cornerstone of philosophy at the day care center is to reawaken the fun of learning in the youth, because the staff at Los Vecinos feel that without a change of attitude time has essentially been wasted.

"Once a youth is able to function without our daily efforts they return to the regular stream of life," Haley said.

"We often get kids from institutions who can't function well in society after their release so we act as an inbetween and bridge the gap until they are ready to make it on their own," he added.

"There's room for 15 at each center and they are from all walks of life. It's not just the poor kids who have problems like many people might think," said Haley.

State Track Team Increased by Four

San Diego State head track coach Dick Hill has signed four more athletes to national letters of intent.

The top recruit is Don Miller from L.A. City College. Miller is the State JC champion in the 440, with a best time of 47.1. He has also run a 46.1 relay leg.

Glen Wilson and Greg Baer, two locals from Grossmont College, are among the signees. Wilson is a 210-5 javelin thrower, and his signing gives the Aztecs three throwers for next year.

Baer is a shot put and discus man, with bests of 54-10¾ in the shot and 160-3 in the discus.

The fourth signee is another quarter-miler. Jose Madruaga from Diablo Valley, with a best of 48.0, was fifth in the State Junior College meet. He has also run 9.9 (100) and 22.0 (220).

The signings bring the Aztec total to nine new athletes for next year. Included in last week's signings are one CSJC champion and two top local athletes.

Youth Hostels Plan 14-Day Bike Ride

A bicycle trip from San Francisco to San Diego is planned August 2 by the San Diego branch of American Youth Hostels, Inc. The two-week trip down the California coast begins with a two-day tour of San Francisco followed by a twelve day trek by cycle to San Diego. Nights will be spent in campgrounds along the route.

Participants will fly to San Francisco.

Sign-ups for the trip are in progress.

Alcoholism Cure Cheaper On Local Level, State Says

California is saving $11 million dollars a year by furnishing most alcoholism services at the local level instead of using state hospital treatment typical of 20 years ago, a state agency report reveals.

In a review of two decades of growth, the director of the State Office of Alcohol Program Management, Loran D. Archer, revealed it would cost taxpayers $32 million a year just to maintain the 1955 alcoholic patient population of 2,200 persons in state hospitals today.

However, he said costs have been running at approximately $21 million in recent years. In addition, more than 40,000 persons with alcohol problems are being served by local outpatient clinics, detoxification centers, recovery homes and other alternative facilities, he added.

State Admissions 7%

In the meantime, he reported that admissions to state hospitals for alcoholism have dropped from 20 to 7 percent of total admissions.

Archer cited "the philosophy of developing well-knit, community-based programs, using voluntary efforts, and limiting state activity to coordination and review" as responsible for the major change in emphasis and the reduction in cost over the years.

"The route alcoholism programs have been traveling is one of concern for increasing individual responsibility, family responsibility, and in moving service programs closer to the people," Archer reported.

Ill, Not Criminal

Speaking to the quarterly meeting of the State Alcoholism Advisory Council in Sacramento, Archer cited fears in employee organizations and other quarters about elimination of jobs or possible increases in jail costs when patients are transferred to the community level.

"This is not true in alcoholism," he said.

"As you go back to 1955 you will find that the number of arrests exceeded 350,000 for public inebriacy in California.

Today, at the same time we are serving more people in the communities where there is more potential for possible arrest, the number of such arrests has actually dropped to 200,000.

"There has not been an increase cost to the criminal justice system — in fact there has been a savings through community-based detoxification and other alternative programs that treat the alcoholic as an ill person rather than a criminal."

Alternatives

He indicated that today more than 100 general hospitals now accept alcoholic patients as contrasted with "very few" twenty years ago.

The state alcoholism program director singled out for praise the dedicated volunteer work by Alcoholics Anonymous members and countless average citizens in emergency, hot-line, and alcohol awareness efforts over the past twenty years.

Burglars Hit Two Cash Jar Jackpots

When Deborah Gean Craft, of 7316 Goodman lane, in Lemon Grove got home from work June 28 about 11 p.m., she discovered she had been burglarized.

A thief, apparently using a key to get in, carried away her Zenith color teevee worth $270; $408 in cash; $20 in silver, several rolls of quarters and two gallons of pennies.

She estimated her loss at $678 and gave sheriff's deputies the names of a couple of suspects.

The day before, in an unconnected case, Virginia Ann Noll, of 651 Worthington st., Spring Valley, told police she had been burglarized of a jar of cash. She estimated it contained about $130 and had been taken sometime during the ten days last when she added to it.

State Sets Standards On Sulfur Emissions

The State Air Resources Board adopted a compromise proposal on June 30 requiring the gradual reduction of sulfur content in unleaded gasoline. Harmful sulfuric acid emissions from catalytic converters have been found to be directly related to sulful content in unleaded fuel.

Oil refineries will be required to reduce the sulfur content to 500 parts per million by January 1; 400 ppm by 1978 and 300 ppm by 1980.

ARB staff said that the action could add one cent per gallon to the cost of some gasoline, but many companies could comply by "blending" at no added cost during the initial stages of the program.

Mobilehome Owner Rights Bill Passes

SACRAMENTO — A bill introduced by Assemblyman Tom Suitt (D-Indian Wells) designed to give the mobilehome owners more rights as a property owner has been signed into law by the Governor.

The bill AB 910 exempts the mobilehome owner who owns both his mobilehome and the land on which the home is located to rent or lease that mobilehome without having a mobilehome park operator's permit.

"It is unthinkable to have property rights challenged like this," Suitt said. "No one thinks anything of it when the owner of a conventional home decides to rent out his house for the summer. The same set of rules should go for the mobilehome owner.

"The law, when it reflects unreasonable prejudice, must be changed. With respect to mobilehomes, that prejudice has been flagrant."

Since the groundbreaking, concrete for the vault has been cast at the site. The 4,000 sq. ft. building is expected to be ready for occupancy by November.

County Doesn't Fund Us, Humane Soc. Chief Says

Here's a stumper of a trivia question to bring up at the next cocktail party: What is the difference between the Animal Regulation Department and the Human Society?

Local Humane Society chief Bill Virden guesses that nine out of ten people don't know.

"The easiest way to tell them apart," says Virden, "is to remember that Animal Regulation protects people from animals, while the Humane Society protects animals from people.

Who do you call — and when? Problems with stray or loose dogs should be directed to County government's Animal Regulation department. Licensing also falls to Animal Regulation in the county's unincorporated areas, San Diego City and various other cities contracted with the department.

Cases of animal cruelty or any type of abuse of any animal should be directed to the Humane Society. The San Diego County Humane Society covers an area from Del Mar to the Mexican border and from the Pacific to the desert.

The Society has historically handled the bulk of loose and stray large animals such as horses and cattle.

The name has also caused confusion, Virden alleges. Too many people think that the Society, like the Animal Regulation Dept., is operated through county funds. Actually, the Human Society is funded through donations from members and others sympathetic to its cause. Also, a good portion of its income comes from pet sales at the adoption shelter on Sherman st. in San Diego.

Virden said that the Society enters the new fiscal year with an estimated deficit of $75,000 due to increasing demands for services in the area of animal cruelty.

The Society recently adopted a reward plan to aid in prosecuting offenders of statutes outlawing animal mistreatment or murder.

House Starts Up; Lag 1974 Pace

New housing starts in California during May were up 26.5 per cent from the previous month, but well below the rate for the corresponding period last year, Bank of America reported.

New houses during May were at a seasonally adjusted rate of 124,000 units compared with 98,000 units in April.

Starts were down 21.5 per cent from the May 1974 rate of 158,000 units.

BoA economists said they expect continued gains in residential housing during the second half of this year. Almost 9,000 permits were issued for single family dwellings during May — the highest total since June 1974.

Jewelry Stolen

There was no evidence of forced entry at the home of Wayne Allen Volt, 7955 Nichals st., Lemon Grove. But when he returned home about 6 p.m. June 30th he discovered that five rings and a watch, all valued at $700, were missing

Warning Given By HEW on Charcoal Use

Smoldering charcoal yields large quantites of carbon monoxide (CO).

You can't see it, smell it, or even touch it, yet it killed over 1,500 and maimed well over 10,000 persons last year.

Carbon monoxide gas is a deadly killer and the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Wefare warns that charcoaling is one of the major hazards to beware of this summer.

The safety team of Combined Insurance Company of America (CICA) cautions outdoor chefs to remain outdoors for their cookout. However, if the weather forces you into a partial enclosure, such as a garage, be certain that all doors are open to the outside, and even then it is considered dangerous. Campers are also warned not to use charcoal in their tent for cooking or as a heating element, no matter how cold it is.

Symptoms Listed

Dr. David Goldfinger, medical consultant for CICA's claims department, advises that if while charcoaling you develop a headache, dizziness or suddenly feel weak, escape to the fresh air immediately. If you don't escape and more CO is absorbed into your system, unconsciousness and death can follow.

"If you come across a person who has been overcome by CO gas, move the victim to fresh air immediately. If breathing has stopped or is irregular, start mouth-to-mouth resuscitation at once. The breath rate should be one every three seconds," the doctor states.

"Have someone call a rescue squad or a doctor immediately. Do not give the victim anything to eat or drink," he adds.

In conclusion, the doctor said, "It is imperative that every person who has succumbed to CO poisoning be examined by a doctor."

Slight Change Seen For Dairy Products

Despite a moderate decline in receipts from cattle and calves, 1975 California farm income from livestock and livestock products will be essentially unchanged from the $2.77 billion generated in 1974, according to Bank of America economic forecasters.

Dairy product sales are expected to increase 4.3 per cent, offsetting the loss of revenue from cattle and calves. Milk receipts are predicted to reach $930 million, up from $894 million in 1974.

California hog farmers indicate plans to continue a slowdown in production. Producers in the 14 leading hog states effected a 21 per cent cut for March through May and planned a 17 per cent decrease from June through August.

Despite a drop of 43,000 in California's early lamb crop, the number of lambs and sheep on feed will increase some 9 per cent this year. As of January, the number of lambs and sheep on state farms had declined 5 per cent to 1,070,000.

Near $11 Million Tagged for Jobless

California communities will receive $162.4 million for 21,650 public service jobs under a bill just passed by Congress and sent to the President, Senator Alan Cranston (D., Calif.) announced.

San Diego would receive $10,900,599.

The bill (House Joint Resolution 499) appropriates $1.625 billion for 217,000 public service jobs nationwide.

The Emergency Employment Appropriations Act, which originally contained these funds, was vetoed by President Ford May 30, Cranston said. "But the President is expected to approve this particular measure," he said.

Cranston, who serves on the Senate Labor Committee, has been a major advocate of the federal government meeting local unemployment problems through the creation of public service jobs in fields like health, public safety, education, pollution control and veterans counseling.

"The fact that 8.5 million people are out of work is devastating evidence of our nation's economic plight and the need for immediate action to deal with it," Cranston said. "We must create jobs and put people back to work performing needed services as quickly as possible."

May Rate 10.6 Per Cent

Cranston noted that the California unemployment rate in May was 10.6 per cent with 954,200 Californians out of work. Nationwide the unemployment rate is 9.2 percent.

Cranston said that in the last few weeks, his office has received daily calls from city, county, and other local manpower agencies in California warning of the "serious crisis that would occur in job layoffs if additional funds were not received by the end of June".

According to the most recent Department of Labor figures California will end up with $162.4 million under the program which will finance 21,650 jobs. The average public service job pays $7,500 a year.

Avocado Village Project Funded

Completion of a $10.8 million loan commitment for Rancho San Diego has been announced by George Boynton, Vice-president and Manager of the San Diego office of United California Mortgage Company, a division of United California Bank, and Frank Parks, General Manager of Rancho San Diego Development Company.

Rancho San Diego is a 4,600 acre planned community 12 miles east of San Diego. $5.2 million of the loan will be used for development of the balance of Sweetwater Village/West, Rancho San Diego's first residential area, containing 28 acres for 91 single family lots, and for development of the 265 acre Sweetwater Village/East, which will contain 50 acres of employment center and multi-family, single family and cluster residential sites.

The balance of the $10.8 million commitment will go toward development of the 150 acre Avocado Village. which will comprise 38 acres of retail commercial and 15 acres of residential professional, with the balance in single family and cluster residential lots.

Avocado Village is located at Campo rd. and Avocado blvd.

Unleaded Gasoline Good For Motorcycles

Motorcycles were virtually ignored when unleaded gasoline was introduced to help combat air pollution, but they have turned out to be one of the major beneficiaries of the new fuel, according to researchers at Kawasaki Motors.

Unleaded gas is the recommended fuel for all current models of Kawasaki cycles sold for public use, they say.

"In addition to substantially helping to reduce exhaust emissions, unleaded gas can save the average motorcyclist up to 20 percent per year on maintenance costs.

"Use of unleaded gas can prolong sparkplug life, reduce crankcase oil contamination and extend engine life when used in Kawasaki motorcycles," researchers said.

For these reasons unleaded gasoline will be specified beginning with late 1975 models.

Meanwhile, owners of older models can also enjoy the benefits of unleaded gas.

All 1966-75 two-stroke models, except competition motocross and road racing machines, not only can, but should use unleaded fuel.

IRS TAX ANSWERS

F. S. Schmidt, DISTRICT DIRECTOR, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Does the deduction for transportation to get medical help include the cost of the ambulance I used when I had a heart attack?

A. Yes. Ambulance hire is a deductible medical expense. Report it with your other medical expenses on Schedule A of Form 1040.

Q. When I filed my return for 1974, I wasn't sure I had enough records to support the deductions I claimed. Just what are record keeping requirements of the IRS?

A. Taxpayers are required by law to keep records that will enable them to prepare complete and accurate income tax returns. Although the law doesn't require any special form of records, taxpayers must retain all receipts, canceled checks, and other evidence to prove amounts claimed as deductions. If a taxpayer files a claim for a refund, there must be records to prove overpayment of tax.

Furthermore, records that support an item of income or a deduction appearing on a return must be kept until the statute of limitations for the return expires. Usually this is three years from the date the return was due or filed or two years from the date the tax was paid, whichever occurs later. Additionally, records of transactions relating to the basis of property should be retained as long as they are material in determining the basis of the original or replacement property.

Q. Can I deduct the cost of a garage in my backyard.

A. No. Such expenses are not deductible, but the cost of the improvement can be added to the basis of your house, so that it will be taken into account in the event you should sell your home. However, the cost of building a room for business or rental use may be depreciated. For more information, see IRS Publication 520, "Tax Information on Deductions for Homeowners." It's available free from your IRS office.

Q. Can condominium owners deduct amounts paid for real estate taxes and mortgage interest?

A. Yes. If you itemize deductions on Schedule A of Form 1040, such payments are deductible.

Tax Take Sets All-Time Record

Records were shattered at the State Board of Equalization on June 23 when a total in excess of $122 million in business tax payments — largely sales tax — was processed and deposited between 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. by Board employees.

Board Chairman John W. Lynch reports that this is the highest single weekday total deposited in the 96-year history of the Board. The previous high was established on November 5, 1974 when the total topped $112 million.

The artificial turf in Neyland Stadium, Knoxville, cost $250,000.

Animal Shelter Cages 43,000 in Fiscal Year

Annual fiscal year report from the Animal Regulation Division released this week illustrates the magnitude of the stray pet problem in the county.

Statistics show that in the past year 43,373 pets have been impounded, among them 30,013 strays.

Only 10,582 of these were redeemed and considerably less, 2,315, have been adopted since July, 1974. 29,079 pets were destroyed during the past year.

The County cited 8,677 pet owners for various violations in that time frame.

Windmill No Cure for Electric Bill Woes, UCD's Prof Says

If you've been thinking about cutting your utility bills by setting up a windmill to supply your electricity, better forget it.

Theoretically, wind is a free and inexhaustible source of energy, but trying to harness it can be both expensive and frustrating. California rates way down the line when it comes to having reliable, dependable winds.

Robert A. Parsons, Extension Agricultural Engineer at the University of California at Davis, has co-authored a study on the subject.

For diehard windmill buffs, Parsons' conclusions are these: move to the windy Great Plains of the Midwest, and — more importantly — change your life style. All those electrical gadgets so firmly implanted in today's living will have to go.

Weak Breeze Here

According to Parsons, California is not windy enough for effective windmill operation, except to a limited degree in some desert areas, some stretches of the coast and some mountain tops and passes.

"Windmills and generators don't even start running until the wind velocity exceeds 7 miles per hour. Where the annual average velocity is less than 8 mph, not enough energy can be generated to be useful," he said.

Parsons cited average wind speeds, measured at airports, of 6.8 mph for Los Angeles, 5.8 mph for Bakersfield and 9.3 for Sacramento.

San Francisco does a bit better at 10.6 mph.

But then, Parsons noted, you have to consider the efficiency of the windmill. "Theoretically only 60 per cent of the wind's power can be extracted, and extremely efficient propellors can obtain, at best, only 70 per cent. Adding losses due to gearing, or operating a pump, generator or battery, efficiency is reduced to 10 to 30 per cent of total wind power."

Not Much Power

Parsons spelled out the power potential of a wind generator even in relatively windy San Francisco. "A typical home will use 400 to 600 kilowatt hours per month. A windmill generator with 12-foot props might generate 100 KW hours."

Utility bills begin to look more reasonable when you consider the cost of a wind generator and necessary accessories. "A 2 KW wind generator—that is, one delivering a maximum of 2 KW in 25 to 30 mph winds — costs around $3,000.

"That doesn't count the tower which must top nearby tree lines or other wind obstructions, nor does it include the generator, control panel, speed-control devices or wet-cell batteries," the Davis engineer noted.

Summing up the bleak prospects for a windmill boom in California, Parsons said: "Windmills and wind generators are really practical only where electricity is not otherwise available, or where gas-powered generators cannot be attended."

Model Boats: Out of the Tub, and into the Bay

Navigating model boats around the bathtub has traditionally been one of life's more simple pleasures. Now, tradition joins the 20th century!

Remote control and designer model boat kits have launched a new breed of yachtsman and another dimension to the art of sailing.

Snowy sails snapping in the wind and hulls swishing through water lure these "yachtsmen" almost every weekend to the shores of West Vacation Isle's Model Yacht Basin in Mission Bay. This 830 foot long basin was designed specially to provide a new challenge for the increasingly popular and sophisticated family hobby.

Model Invitations

Power models will compete over Labor Day Weekend Aug. 30 and 31, and a fall sail competition is set for Oct. 25 and 26.

The "skippers", while keeping pace along the shore with their moving craft, relay commands to the sails and rudders via small, manually operated remote control boxes. Tiny receivers attached to the rigging and motors receive radio pulse messages from transmitters. "Trimming the sails" or "coming about" are accomplished with the flick of a wrist.

Scale models vary from approximately three to six feet in length, the larger models often including replicas of the America Cup 12 Meter Class. Other classifications are designated strictly for scale models, like the 50/800 Marblehead Class. These scaled dimensions represent the overall inch-length of the hull and area of the sails respectively. Fiberglass free-sailing models, excluding radio control, can range from $25 to $500.

Craftsmanship, engineering and nautical skill are combined in the finished product of a "scratch built" model. Intricate details from stem to stern often comprise hand-painted designs, carved ornamentation, handsewn sails and even miniature crews.

Power Boats

Power boats are also very much a part of the nautical scene at the Model Yacht Basin. Some of the models raced have reached speeds of 65 m.p.h. on straight courses and 50 m.p.h. on oval courses.

Propelled by various methods — electricity, internal combustion, steam — power models are often equipped with special mufflers to enable them to stay within the decibel limits set down by the city's Environmental Quality Office.

Point racing is conducted throughout the year, sponsored by various organizations devoted to the art of model yacht racing. Trophies are awarded annually for the highest number of points accumulated during competition.

Interest Paid Raised

The First National Bank increased the rate of interest paid to depositors on regular savings and Christmas Club savings accounts from 4½ to 5 per cent on July 1.

Customers who deposit funds any time up to July 10 will be paid interest from the first. The extra grace period is effective only during the months of January and July, he said.

SKID MARKS TELL STORY — Workmen were busy making an estimated $7000 in repairs on Skyline Wesleyan Church's Fellowship Hall last week following the June 30 accident where Robert McCane, 17, of 1527 La Corta st., Lemon Grove, apparently racing on Jamacha rd. with Timothy Badger, 18, of 643 Broadway, S.V., lost control of his vehicle. The auto jumped an embankment and flipped as it skidded into the structure, stopping upside down inside the hall, according to a CHP spokesman. McCane was seriously injured and taken to Paradise Valley Hospital.

If You Believe You've Been Cheated . . .

A series of consumer protection advisories have been prepared by the California Trial Lawyers Association to warn consumers of some of the hazards of signing a contract. The following article is one of several that will be published in this column for several weeks.

Consumers are urged to write CTLA for their Consumer Protection Pamphlet which tells "How Not to Be Cheated and Who to Contact If You Are."

The address is at the end of this week's Column.

Condominium Conversions

Growing controversy surrounds the conversion of older apartment buildings into individual condominium dwelling estates.

The highest problem buyers face is to determine the degree of deterioration which has taken place over the life of the structure. If expensive repairs are necessary after the property is converted into condos, you will have to bear your share of that cost over and above the purchase price. For example, a new roof for a 100-unit complex may cost $100,000 or more. Thus, if the roof was not replaced prior to conversion, add $1,000 to the purchase price of the condo unit.

Before you buy a converted unit, carefully determine the repairs still needed. If necessary, hire a professional inspector for a written report. Remember. you will not only own the dwelling unit, but also become joint owner of all roofs and streets in the project, plus all of the pipes, wires, drains, and other elements buried in the walls of all units in the complex.

Sometimes, developers only give the building a cosmetic refurbishing. It is wise to avoid conversions which have not been restored to a "like new" condition with all deferred maintenance problems corrected. Demand to see written proof of all major repairs.

Another big problem is sound transmission through the walls. Even if the building was propertly restored, lack of proper soundproofing may seriously affect the liveability of your new home.

Highway Patrol Starts Off-Road ID Crackdown

The State Highway Patrol is tightening enforcement against imporperly identified off-highway vehicles, Commissioner Glen Craig said last week.

"Field reports show more frequent violations now that vacationers are hauling trail-bikes, dune buggies, and similar vehicles for off-highway use."

California law provides that unregistered off-highway vehicles must display a special identification device issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles. Exceptions are off-highway vehicles used exclusively on the owner's property and vehicles operated solely in competitive events conducted on closed courses by a recognized sanctioning organization.

The special ID must be displayed when the vehicle is operated or transported on any highway, and during actual off-highway use.

Commissioner Craig said most checks of off-highway vehicle identification will be in conjunction with a stop for another violation but "officers may stop any off-highway vehicle when the identification is not apparent."
